

NELL H. MCCABE

Pittsfield, Massachusetts 01201 • 413.847.0774 • nmccabe@berkshirecc.edu

WORK EXPERIENCE

Associate Professor of English, Berkshire Community College

(August 2014—present)

- Design and teach a variety of courses including composition, developmental writing, literature, and creative writing
- Design and teach on campus, hybrid, and online courses
- Co-creator and coordinator of the Writing Center
- Serve as faculty advisor to the Center for Teaching and Learning
- Serve as Instructional Designer on a Title III Grant, overseeing the redesign of gateway courses in multiple disciplines, coordinate professional development for faculty

Adjunct Instructor, Berkshire Community College

(August 2012—present)

- Responsible for designing and teaching a variety of courses including composition, developmental writing, literature, and creative writing

Anthology Editor, The Missouri Review

(August 2010—July 2011)

- Created textBOX: an online anthology of fiction, essays and poetry accompanied by supplementary teaching materials, designed for use by students and teachers of contemporary literature and creative writing
- Supervised teams of undergraduate interns working on various aspects of the anthology
- Oversaw all aspects of the creation and development of the anthology including production of supplementary materials, copyright permissions, website design, outreach and marketing

Graduate Instructor, University of Missouri – Columbia

(August 2009—May 2010)

- Developed and taught a literature-based composition course, and an introductory creative writing course

Tutor: Writing Lab at University of Missouri – Columbia, Student Services

(August 2008—August 2009)

- Worked one-on-one with students addressing higher and lower level concerns in their writing

Teaching Assistant, Massachusetts College of Liberal Arts, North Adams, MA

(Spring 2007)

- English 340: Literature and Society (with Professor Annie Raskin)
 - Assisted in syllabus creation, leading class discussions, and developing paper assignments

Freelance Web and Graphic Design, Berkshire County, MA; Columbia, MO

(July 2002—August 2014)

- Design and build websites for local businesses and individuals using Wordpress and other content management systems

- Produce print and web advertisements, brochures, business cards, posters and other promotional materials for multiple local clients, both for-profit and not-for-profit, using the Adobe Creative Suite

Marketing Director: Railroad Street Youth Project, Great Barrington, MA
(October 2001—August 2003)

- Responsible for organization advertising, including graphic design and placement
- Planned and oversaw projects developed by area young people
- Designed and published literary magazine for local writers
- Designed and created website to facilitate wider community access to programs

EDUCATION

University of Missouri – Columbia

Master of Arts in English – Creative Writing: Fiction

(August 2010)

Massachusetts College of Liberal Arts

Bachelor of Arts in English/Communications with a concentration in creative writing

(May 2007)

Berkshire Community College

Associate of Arts: Liberal Arts

(August 2005)

Professional and personal references available upon request.